A GREAT WORK JUST COMPLETED.

THE

Schaff-Herzog Encyclopædia of Religious Knowledge.

Edited by PHILIP SCHAFF, D.D., LL.D.

☞ Where we have no canvassers special arrangements with the trade for the introduction of this great work.

SUMMARY OF STRONG POINTS.

1. The joint product of the scholarship of the world—over 438 eminent specialists of America and Europe having contributed.
2. Based on Herzog's great standard Encyclopædia of Germany.
3. The latest, most compact, and cheapest of all Religious Encyclopædias.
4. Thousands of important articles, each written by a competent specialist and signed.
5. Wholly undenominational and unsectarian.
6. Latest changes in church polity—found in no other encyclopædia.
7. The work highly commended as the best by recognized scholars in Europe and America.

ENTHUSIASM OF SCHOLARS.

MORGAN DIX, D.D., LL.D., says: "It fills my idea of what an encyclopædia should be. It is admirably adapted to the use of busy men of a very busy age. . . . In short, this work must be more highly esteemed the better it is known, and for purposes of consultation IT IS NOT SURPASSED by anything published up to the present day."

JOHN HALL, D.D.: "A work of great and lasting value."

DR. R. D. HITCHCOCK, President Union Theological Seminary, New York, says: "The very best encyclopædia published in any language. For variety, amplitude, and exactness of useful information in the branches of knowledge covered by it I am acquainted with no work that equals it. I anticipate for it an immense sale."

R. S. STORRS, D.D.: "A work of immense value."

Complete in three large royal 8vo volumes. Cloth, $18; sheep, $22.50; half morocco, $27; full morocco, gilt, $36.

JUST ISSUED IN STANDARD LIBRARY.

ARCHIBALD MALMAISON. A Novel. By JULIAN HAWTHORNE. Paper, 15 cents; cloth, 75 cents.

THE LONDON TIMES says: "After perusal of this weird fantastic tale it must be admitted that upon the shoulders of Julian Hawthorne has decended in no small degree the mantle of his most illustrious father. The climax is so terrible and so dramatic that it is impossible to class the book with any situation of modern fiction."

IN THE HEART OF AFRICA. By SIR SAMUEL BAKER, F.R.G.S. Paper, 25 cents; cloth, $1.

THE CLEW OF THE MAZE; or, Modern Infidelity and How to Meet It. Together with a series of non-religious papers. "The Spare Half Hour." By Rev. C. H. SPURGEON. Paper, 15 cents; cloth, 75 cents.

CHRISTIAN HERALD, London: "As full of good things as an egg is of meat. Its treatment of the epidemic of scepticism is thorough."

"L'EVANGELISTE. ALPHONSE DAUDET'S FAMOUS NOVEL. Founded on the Doings of the Salvation Army. New edition ready. This is the only complete American edition of this great novel. Paper, 50 cents; cloth, $1.

"HENRY JAMES says in THE CENTURY MAGAZINE: "We have no one in England or America to oppose to Alphonse Daudet—in short, Alphonse Daudet is at the head of his profession."

NOTES IN SEASON.

HOUGHTON, MIFFLIN AND COMPANY

Will Publish Saturday, May 10:

MARGARET FULLER OSSOLI.

By THOMAS WENTWORTH HIGGINSON. Vol. VI. in "American Men of Letters," edited by CHARLES DUDLEY WARNER. With fine Steel Portrait. 1 vol., 16mo, gilt top, $1.25.

This is a notable addition to the excellent series to which it belongs. Margaret Fuller Ossoli's intellectual range and culture, and her great literary accomplishments easily entitle her to a high rank among the representatives of American letters. Colonel Higginson has had access to a great amount of fresh material—letters from Margaret Fuller to Mr. Emerson, Dr. Hedge, Rev. W. H. Channing and many others; her Diary; and other papers never before printed. His work consequently has a far greater value than it could have if it were merely a restatement of facts already known, and the great interest of the subject and Colonel Higginson's rare literary skill assure a book of remarkable attractiveness.

HAND-BOOK OF AMERICAN AUTHORS.

By OSCAR FAY ADAMS, author of "Hand-Book of English Authors." 1 vol., 16mo, 75 cents.

This book follows the same plan on which Mr. Adams prepared his previous volume. It is not an encyclopædia, giving full details respecting the careers and writings of those of whom it includes; but a hand-book, giving the leading facts, and, as far as possible, suggesting sources of fuller information. The Christian Union says of the "Hand-Book of English Authors":

"In this little book Mr. Adams gives a list, which, so far as we have examined, is exhaustive, of all English writers, giving, wherever it is possible, the date of birth, account of literary work, and, in some cases, a brief characterization. Mr. Adams has done his work with excellent taste, sound judgment, and good scholarship; and his Hand-book is to be commended as the most serviceable book of its kind which has yet appeared.

A SATCHEL GUIDE

For Vacation Tourists in Europe. New Edition for 1884, revised, with additions. A compact Itinerary of the British Isles, Belgium and Holland, Germany and the Rhine, Switzerland, France, Austria, and Italy. With Maps, Tables of the Comparative Values of United States and European Moneys, a Traveller's Calendar of Ecclesiastical and Popular Festivals, Fairs, etc., and a List of the most Famous Pictures in the Public Galleries and Churches of Europe. 16mo, roan, flexible, price reduced to $1.50.

This Guide-Book to European travel, which has been used for ten years with great satisfaction by the multitudes who have followed its directions, has been carefully corrected by the editor, and brought down to date. Its information is believed to be full on the points which it covers, and thoroughly reliable. It is equipped with more maps than ever before, its size has been slightly reduced so that it can be more easily carried in the pocket, and its price has been correspondingly reduced.

COLBURN'S INTELLECTUAL ARITHMETIC.

NEW EDITION.

INTELLECTUAL ARITHMETIC UPON THE INDUCTIVE SYSTEM. By WARREN COLBURN, A.M. Revised and Enlarged Edition. With a Sketch of the Author's Life. 16mo, 35 cents.

Colburn's Intellectual Arithmetic is one of the best and most famous school-books ever published. In this new edition certain prices and coins which have become obsolete are omitted or corrected; the grade is rendered easier in several places; and some important additions have been made, while the Colburn Method has been preserved throughout.

NOTICE.

ADVERTISERS and subscribers whose bills in connection with the publications of the late F. Leypoldt are yet unpaid will kindly note that payments on all issues of the periodicals previous to April 1, 1884, and on all other business up to that date, should be made to the name of Augusta H. Leypoldt, administratrix; and it will much facilitate the conduct of the business and Mrs. Leypoldt's interests if these payments can be made at once. The business from April 1, 1884, in connection with all the periodicals, will be done under the style of the Office of THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY, and checks, etc., should be drawn to the name of R. R. Bowker. Mrs. Leypoldt retains her interests in and connection with the entire business.

NOTES IN SEASON.

HENRY A. SUMNER & Co. have published a new novel in their Hammock Series, entitled "Dearly Bought," by Clara Louise Burnham, author of "No Gentlemen,' etc. The book has 12 illustrations from drawings by May O. Root.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS, in addition to "Our Chancellor," and the third volume of Stories by American Authors, described in our issue of last week, publish this week "Sermons to the Spiritual Man," by Dr. William G. T. Shedd, a complementary volume to the one entitled "Sermons to the Natural Man," published in 1871. The London Athenæum, by the way, in speaking of Mr. Beatty-Kingston's translation of "Our Chancellor," says: "The literary workmanship of this translation is far superior to that of the original; and Mr. Beatty-Kingston has contrived to bring out the purpose of Dr. Busch better than Dr. Busch himself appears to have been able to do."

HOUGHTON, MIFFLIN & CO. will publish next week, as the sixth volume in their series of American Men of Letters, the "Life of Margaret Fuller Ossoli," by Col. T. W. Higginson. This is not a restatement of facts and opinions contained in the previous Lives of Margaret Fuller, but Col. Higginson has had access to much entirely new material, notably letters and diaries of Margaret Fuller. The work promises to be both an admirable biography and an important edition to its excellent series. At the same time will be published Adams's "Hand-Book of American Authors," supplementing his "Hand-Book of English Authors," and prepared upon the same plan. A new edition of the "Satchel Guide for Vacation Tourists in Europe" is now ready, with additions and corrections which bring it up to date, and with some new maps; also a new edition of "Colburn's Intellectual Arithmetic," which is recognized as one of the great text-books, by virtue of its intrinsic excellence, and of the wide circulation it has had.

R. WORTHINGTON makes the important announcement that he has purchased the remainder of the edition of Lieut.-Commander Henry H. Gorringe's valuable work on the "Egyptian Obelisks," and that he will sell it at about half of its former price. The work, which, we believe, is now for the first time generally offered to the trade, is a sumptuous one in every respect, and one which would perhaps never have been published had it not been for the encouragement of a liberal patron. The story of the obelisk which now stands in the Central Park of New York, its gift to this country, the innumerable difficulties attending its removal, etc., forms the principal part of the work, and is clearly and vividly told. In addition to this are chapters on the archæology of the New York obelisk, on the removal of the Luxor obelisk to Paris and of the fallen obelisk of Alexandria to London, on the re-erection of the Vatican obelisk, a record of all Egyptian obelisks, notes on the ancient methods of quarrying, transporting and erecting obelisks, and an analysis of the materials and metals found with the obelisk at Alexandria. Thirty-two artotypes, eighteen engravings, and one chromo-lithograph—all full page—and a full index enhance the value of the work.

Alden, Mrs. Is. M. ["Pansy," pseud.] Tip Lewis and his lamp. Bost., D. Lothrop & Co., [1884]. 2–360 p. il. S. (The young folks' lib., no. 1.) pap., 25 c.

The first number of a new library for children; a volume will be published every month, in strong manilla covers with attractive design. The present volume, though an old story, is a very good one, and has always been popular.

Amies' universal encyclopædia: a compendium of general information; arranged for ready reference and brought down to the year 1880, including the latest authentic census returns, with the correct pronunciation of every term and proper name, by L. Colange; with maps and col. il. of the flags of all maritime nations. Phil., The Amies Pub. Co., 1884. 1000 p., O. cl. or shp., $7.50; hf. mor., $8.

Anderson, Alex. D. Mexico from the material standpoint; a review of its mineral, agricultural, forest and marine wealth, its manufactures, commerce, railways, Isthmian routes and finances; with a description of its highlands and attractions. N. Y., A. Brentano & Co., 1884. 3–156 p. il., maps and diagrams, O. pap., 50 c.

A plain statement of facts, collected from official and other standard sources, and prepared in legal-brief style, with a citation of authorities. The authorities embrace a list of 15 p. which claims to give all the works in the English language on the history, resources and characteristics of Mexico.

Arey, Mrs. H. E. G. Home and school training. Phil., J. B. Lippincott & Co., 1884. 192 p. S. cl., 75 c.

A plea for home instruction addressed to mothers; under "Home training," are chapters entitled "Mental activities during the first year of life," "The mother's field made ready to her hand," "First simple lessons," "Bias given to the child's mind," "The mother as kindergartner," "Clearness of impression the fast friend of truthfulness," "Analysis of the quality and influence of certain modes of instruction," "The stamp of hereditary influence." Pt. 2, "School training," embraces chapters on "The where and what of school life," "Results to be effected," and "Cultivation of the understanding."

Aristophanes. The frogs; with introduction and notes by W. W. Merry. N. Y., Macmillan, 1884. 16+139 p. S. (Clarendon press ser.) flex. cl., net, 50 c.

Baker, Sir S. W. In the heart of Africa; condensed by E. J. W. from "The Nile tributaries of Abyssinia" and "The Albert N'Yanza Great Basin of the Nile." N. Y., Funk & Wagnalls, 1884. 286 p. D. (Standard lib., no. 8.) cl., $1; pap., 25 c.

In the condensation much of the dry scientific record has been omitted, but the unity and thrilling charm of the narrative have been well preserved, as well as the instructive descriptions of the natives and countries observed. Of especial interest at the present time are the graphic chapters on the Soudan and its capital, Khartoum.

Baltimore. Ordinances and resolutions of the mayor and city council, passed at the annual session of 1882 and 1883. Balt., King Bros., 1883. 136+118+44 p. O. shp.

Barnard, C: Katy Neal: a comedy of child-life, for young performers; in three acts. N. Y., Harold Roorbach, [1884]. 46 p. D. (The acting drama, no. 190.) pap., 15 c.

Can be had with or without music; a charming little play for boys and girls under 14. Mr. Barnard, who has written other plays for children, "Too Soon" and "Eugenia," which have been produced with great success by young amateurs, is connected with the Century.

Barrett, Mary. William the Silent and the Netherland war. Bost., D. Lothrop & Co., [1884]. 480 p. il. D. cl., $1.50.

Designed particularly for young persons who have not time or opportunity to read the story in full, in the extensive works of our standard authors. The authorities chiefly consulted have been the works of Motley and Prescott.

Bell, Alex. Mellville. The faults of speech: a self-corrector and teachers' manual. [New ed.] Bost., James P. Burbank, 1884. 6+71 p. T. cl., 60 c.

Clear, simple and practical directions for the removal of all impediments of speech, including stammering, stuttering, etc., as well as all minor defects and blemishes, such as lisping, burring, etc.

Bell, Alex. Melville. Visible speech reader for the nursery and primary school, requiring no preparatory knowledge of visible speech on the part of the teacher. Bost., Ja. P. Burbank, 1883. 3+52 p. D. pap., 50 c.

The object of this little book is to enable children and others to be taught to read from the purely phonetic letters of visible speech as a preparation for the use of common letters. A key to the visible speech exercises is furnished at the end of the book.

Blouët, Paul, ed. L'éloquence de la chaire et de la tribune Françaises. V. 1: French sacred oratory. N. Y., Macmillan, 1884. 8+199 p. S. (Clarendon press ser.) flex. cl., net, 60 c.

Church, R. W. [Francis] Bacon. N. Y., Harper, 1884. 6+214 p. D. (English men of letters.) cl., 75 c.

"We should not have selected the biographer of St. Anselm and the prime essayist upon Dante for a sketch of the life and character of Bacon. But the result approves the wisdom of the choice. A more interesting narrative, a more truthful delineation of events and character, and a more unbiassed judgment we cannot expect to have."—N. Y. Evening Post.

Clarke, Ja. Freeman. Anti-slavery days: a sketch of the struggle which ended in the abolition of slavery in the United States. N. Y., R. Worthington, 1884. 3+224 p. D. cl., $1.25.

"The origin of the anti-slavery movements in the United States," "The fight in Congress," "Abolitionists and fugitive slaves," "Friends and opposers of the anti-slavery movement," "Anti-slavery in politics," "The combat deepens," "Civil war and end of slavery" are the titles of the chapters comprised in this volume. They were originally given as lectures and merely aim to call attention to "a few important events and characters belonging to the period described." The book is very strongly written, and very interesting.

Clay, Bertha M. Thorns and orange blossoms. N. Y., J. S. Ogilvie & Co., [1884]. 412 p. D. cl., $1; pap., 50 c.

*Coleridge, S: Taylor. Complete works; with an introductory essay upon his philosophical and theological opinions; ed. by W. G. T. Shedd; with an index prepared by Arthur Gilman. Library ed. N. Y., Harper, 1884. 7 v., D. cl., ea. $2; or per set, $12.

Corning, J. Leonard, M.D. Brain exhaustion, with some preliminary considerations on cerebral dynamics. N. Y., Appleton, 1884. 2-234 p. D. cl., $2.

Treatise on brain exhaustion; its symptoms, predisposing causes, with considerations on the principles of treatment. Dr. Corning says in his preface: "I have sought to consider, from as scientific a standpoint as possible, a group of symptoms the importance of which is sufficiently evident. The opinions expressed have been formed from direct clinical observation, and from influences derived from physiology and experimental pathology." By the author of a monograph on "Brain rest."

*Colorado. Code of civil procedure, as amended by acts of General Assembly of 1879, 1881, and 1883. [Denver, Times Pub. House, 1883.] 139+79 p. O. shp., $2.50.

*Cowen, Patrick H. Reports of criminal cases, with notes. V. 1: [1860-1874.] Albany, W. C. Little & Co., 1884. 11+723 p. O. shp., $5.

Craig, A. R. Your luck's in your hand; or, the science of modern palmistry: chiefly according to the systems of D'Arpentigny and Desbarrolles; with some account of the gipsies. N.Y., R. Worthington, 1884. 3-320 p. il. D. cl., $1.25.

More a résumé of the whole art of palmistry, than mere directions for telling one's fortune by the lines of the hand. Has chapters on: Palmistry as a science; Ancient palmistry; The modern science and its high-priest; Signs attached to the palm of the hand; English hands; Chinese hands; The North American hand; The hand in children, etc., etc.

*Da Costa, J. M. Medical diagnosis; with special reference to practical medicine: a guide to the knowledge and discrimination of diseases. 6th ed rev. Phil., J. B. Lippincott & Co., 1884. il. O. cl., $6; shp., $7.

Dale, T. Nelson. The outskirts of physical science: essays, philosophical and religious. Bost., Lee & Shepard, 1884. 2-185 p. S. cl., $1.25.

Contents: The harmony between Christian faith and physical science; Scientific studies—their place and use in education; On the interpretation of the first chapter of the book of Genesis; The vital questions in the conflict between religious and physical science.

Drury, J: B., D.D. Truths and untruths of evolution. N.Y., A. D. F. Randolph & Co., [1884]. 5+140 p. D. (Vedder lectures, 1883.) cl., $1.

Five lectures delivered in April, 1883, before the students of the Theological Seminary and Rutgers College, at New Brunswick. Dr. Drury has sought to be just and fair to science as well as to religion. Instead of combating evolution as altogether inadmissible, he concedes the possibility of its truthfulness, and aims to show that "the believer in God and a revelation has nothing to fear from it as a foe to religion, when its postulates are freed from assumptions, and its truths are separated from its untruths."

Eliot, George, [pseud. for Mrs. J. W. Cross.] Essays and leaves from a note-book. N. Y., Harper, 1884. 4+295 p. D. cl., Library ed., $1.25; Popular ed., 75 c.

Four of these essays, "Worldliness and other-worldliness—The poet Young," "German wit—Heinrich Heine," "Evangelical teaching—Dr. Cumming," "The natural history of German life—Riehl," are from the Westminster Review; "The influence of rationalism," a review of Lecky's History, is from the Fortnightly Review; "Three months in Weimar" from Fraser's Magazine, and an "Address to workingmen, by Felix Holt," from Blackwood's Magazine. They were all written by George Eliot before she became famous, and were collected by her and revised for publication before her death, with written injunctions that no other pieces written by her, of date prior to 1877, should be republished. The "Leaves from a note-book" cover but 21 pages, and relate to "Authorship," "Judgments of authors" and "Story-telling."

Forbes, Archibald. Chinese Gordon: a succinct record of his life. N. Y., S. W. Green's Son, 1884. 4-215 p. por. D. cl., $1; pap., 50 c.

Forbes, Archibald. Chinese Gordon: a succinct record of his life. N. Y., G: Routledge & Sons, 1884. 4+252 p. por. D. cl., $1.

Compiled and abridged from Dr. Andrew Wilson's "Ever victorious army" and Birkbeck Hill's "Colonel Gordon in Central Africa;" contains also some quotations from Egmont Hake's work. Offers briefly a very clear account of the career of one of the English heroes of to-day; brings the story down to his entrance, in February, into Khartoum. General Gordon's name is so prominently before the public just now, that this little volume is specially timely. It is by the famous war correspondent, and well put together.

Gower, Lord Ronald. My reminiscences. Bost., Roberts Bros., 1884. 5+361+3+323 323 p. por. and 1 il. cl., $2.

Lord Ronald Gower is a son of the late Duchess of Sutherland. Although but thirty-nine years of age, he has seen a great deal of the world and met many celebrated people. His reminiscenses are charmingly written, and abound in graphic and telling anecdotes, and details of his literary contemporaries, and also of the conspicuous figures of the previous generation which he narrates from hearsay. Among the famous names which occur in his book are the Prince and Princess of Wales, Lord Carlisle, Garibaldi, Napoleon III., Empress Eugenie, Carlyle, Longfellow, Taine, Sarah Bernhardt, and Lord Beaconsfield.

Griswold, W. H. The Q. P. index annual for 1883. Third annual issue. Bangor, Me., Q. P. Index, 1884. 40 p. D. (Q. P. Indexes, no. 15.) cl., $1.

An index to the American, Art Amateur, Atlantic, Century, Catholic World, Continent, Deutsche Rundschau, Eclectic, English, Harper's, Independent, International Review, Lippincott's, Longman's, Macmillan's, Magazine of Am. History, Magazine of Art, Manhattan, Modern Age, Nation, New Englander, Nord und Süd, North American Review, Overland, Popular Science, Princeton Review, Republic, Unitarian Review, United Service, Westermann's Monatshefte, Wheelman, and to U. S. Consular and education reports.

Gurney, Eliza P. Memoir and correspondence; ed. by R: F. Mott. Phil., J. B. Lippincott & Co., 1884. 2+377 p. por. and 1 il. D. cl., $1.50.

The story of the long but somewhat uneventful life of a well-known member of the Society of Friends, b. in Phil. 1801, d. at Burlington, N. J., 1881.

Hake, A. Egmont. The story of Chinese Gordon. New ed., with additions, bringing down the narrative to the present time, by Hugh Craig. N. Y., R. Worthington, 1884. 5+358 p. por. and maps, D. cl., $1.50.

The forty pages added by Mr. Craig tell the story of Gen. Gordon's present campaign in the Soudan. See notice of the first edition in P. W., "Weekly Record," Jan. 26, '84 [626]. The present edition is an American ed., printed from American plates, and consequently sold much cheaper than the 1st ed.

Keyser, Harriette A. Thorns in your sides. N. Y., G: P. Putnam's Sons, 1884. 4+238 p. S. cl., $1.

Like "On the borderland," by the same author, this novel has a purpose, and that is to ventilate the iniquities of the "Irish Romanists" in New York City. On a mere thread of a story are strung a number of sketches of the thorns in our sides, as, politicians, city officials, members of secret societies, promoters of riots and dynamite plots, etc., etc.

Koehler, S. R., comp. The United States art directory and year-book: a chronicle of events in the art world, and a guide for all interested in the progress of art in America. N. Y., Cassell & Co., 1884. 9+221 p.+63 pl., O. bds., $2.

All the prominent features of the first year's issue have been retained and many attractions added, making the volume something more than a mere practical book of reference; principal among these attractions are the "Chronicle," giving a concise but very full account of the art events of the past year, and the illustrations, of which there are no less than seventy-six, most of them full-page. Of these illustrations, forty-four are given as souvenirs of the exhibitions, representing some of the principal pictures shown during the year; three are devoted to sculpture; ten represent American art in Europe, i.e., pictures shown or medalled on the other side during the year, while the balance, nineteen in all, consists of views and plans of nearly all the more important buildings devoted to art, in the shape of museums, academies, etc., throughout the United States. All the information given in the book has been carefully revised and brought down to date, greatly increasing the size of the book.

Prentiss, Mrs. Elizabeth. How sorrow was changed into sympathy: words of cheer for mothers bereft of little children; out of the life of Mrs. Prentiss. N. Y., A. D. F. Randolph & Co., [1884]. 21+187 p. D. cl., $1.25.

Contains the story of Eddy and Bessie Prentiss written by Mrs. Prentiss shortly after their death and passages from which were given in her memoir, verses relating chiefly to the loss of these children, a few of her letters to bereaved friends, and some thoughts by the editor on the death of infants. The most of it is now printed for the first time. The book is designed specially for mothers who mourn the loss of young children.

Quinan, J: R., M.D. Medical annals of Baltimore from 1608 to 1880; including events, men and literature, to which is added a subject-index and record of public services. Balt., Press of Isaac Friedenwald, [Dr. E. F. Cordell, Medical Library], 1884. 6–275 p. por. O. pap., $1.

This notable compilation is the result of many years' labor; it was prepared by request of the Medical and Chi-urgical Faculty of Maryland, as a memorial volume, in honor of the sesqui-centennial of Baltimore, October, 1880. It comprises a chronology of events connected with the progress of medicine in Baltimore from 1608 to 1880; a biography of Baltimore physicians, to which is appended a record of their literary contributions; a subject-index to the literature; a record of public services, military, civil and medical, performed by Baltimore physicians from 1608 to 1880, in the city, state and national governments, with statistics of the charitable and public institutions of Baltimore.

Robinson, F: W: The man she cared for: a novel. N. Y., Harper, 1884. 74 p. Q. (Harper's Franklin sq. lib, no. 375.) pap., 20 c.

English love story, with an involved plot, and many incidents, in which a family mystery plays a leading part. The style is similar to Robinson's many other novels, and the book equally as interesting.

A reprint of a quaint old ballad, with fac-similes of the original illustrations.

Schopenhauer, Arthur. The world as will and idea; from the German by R. B. Haldane and J: Kemp. In 3 v. V. 1. Bost., James R. Osgood & Co., 1884. O. cl., $5.

Scott, Sir Walter. Quentin Durward; edited especially for this series by Charlotte M. Yonge; with a historical introduction by the editor. Bost., Ginn, Heath & Co., 1884. 312 p. S. (Classics for children.) bds., 45 c.

Forms the fourth issue of this admirable series. Miss Yonge's introduction and notes, covering together 18 pages, make the volume specially useful for young people's reading.

Sessions, Rev. Alex. J. The Lord's day rescued. Bost., D. Lothrop & Co., [1884]. 2-108 p. S. cl., 60 c.

A plea in favor of keeping holy the Sabbath day.

Someone, Septimus, [pseud.] Joe Dobson and his dame: a tale of the days of yore. New ed., from the original of "A long time ago." Lebanon, Pa., Esperanza Pub. Co., 1883. 37 p. il. sq. D. (More for good than glitter ser., no. 1.) pap., 35 c.

Joe Dobson is the hero of the old household ballad, who vowed he could do more work in a day than his dame could in two. This is a republication of the original ballad, with fac-similes of its quaint old pictures.

Southworth, Emma S. Wedded and parted. N. Y., J. S. Ogilvie & Co., [1884]. 313 p. D. cl., $1; pap., 50 c.

Stanton, Theodore, ed. The woman question in Europe: a series of original essays; with an introduction by Frances Power Cobbe. N. Y., G: P. Putnam's Sons, 1884. 17+478 p. O. cl., $3.50.

With the exception of the chapter on Portugal and a portion of the chapter on France, all the contributions are from the pens of women, who have participated either actively or in spirit, in some phase of the woman's movement. The larger part of the volume is occupied by England. The history of the various sides of the movement here is told in a number of essays by Millicent Garrett Fawcett, Maria G. Grey, Frances Elizabeth Hoggan, M.D., and Henrietta O. Barnett. The movement in Germany is related by Anna Schepeler-Lette and Jenny Hirsch and Marie Calm; Austria, by Johanna Leitenberger; Holland, by Elise Van Calcar, and Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Italy, Spain, Russia and the other important European states by often equally notable women. Each essay is preceded by a brief biographical sketch of the writer, and the volume throughout is rich in explanatory foot-notes by the editor.

Taylor, D. H. The life of Paul. Bost., D. Lothrop & Co., 1884. 6-367 p. il. and map, D. cl., $1.50.

A picture of the life of the Apostle Paul and of the scenes through which he passed. The writer says he has "nothing new to say, unless it be those old things that are always new and true and good."

Townsend, G: Alfred, ["Gath," pseud.] The entailed hat; or, Patty Cannon's times: a romance. N.Y., Harper, 1884. 7+565 p. S. cl., $1.50.

"The strangest and wildest of the tales of the Eastern shore Mr. Townsend has elaborated in this curious and exciting book. It is a story of the earlier half of the century, and one dark with the crime and suffering which in those days made an evil record for the borders of Delaware, Maryland, and Virginia. The kidnapping of free negroes by ruffians who made them the articles of a thriving trade with Southern slaveholders was carried on persistently and with a boldness and ingenuity that defeated all attempts at suppression. . . . A novel full of striking episodes."—New York Tribune.

United States. Bureau of Education. Circulars of information, No. 1, 1884. Meeting of the International Prison Congress at Rome, in Oct., 1884. Wash., D. C., Gov. Print. Off., 1884. 8 p. O. pap.

Watson, Paul Barron. Marcus Aurelius Antoninus. N. Y., Harper, 1884. 9+338 p. por. O. cl., $2.50.

The first effort, and a very successful one, to write in English the life of Marcus Aurelius, one of the noblest of the Roman emperors, and one who though a stern moralist, living a pure and exemplary life, was a strong foe to Christianity. The author has endeavored to exclude from the work all contemporaneous history not bearing directly on the character of his subject; on one theme, however, the emperor's attitude toward Christianity, it was not possible to practice so great conciseness. "Without a tolerably complete acquaintance with the state of Christianity at that time," he says, "we can form no just conception of Marcus's religious character. It has been deemed wise, however, to consider only those characteristics of Christianity which were then most prominent, and which furnished the basis for the attitude taken by the emperor. In this way we are forced to present a very one-sided picture of Christianity. The reign of Marcus Aurelius marks a period extremely rife in heresy; and it was mainly with an heretical Christianity that the emperor was brought face to face." A very complete bibliography of the subject (15 p.) will be found in the list of authorities consulted. Full index. Handsomely gotten up volume with uncut edges, top gilt, and smooth cloth binding with gilt lettering.

The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT.

MAY 3, 1884.

PUBLISHERS are requested to furnish title-page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, to insure correctness in the final entry.

The trade are invited to send "Communications" to the editor on any topic of interest to the trade, and as to which an interchange of opinion is desirable. Also, matter for "Notes and Queries" gratefully received.

In case of business changes, notification or card should be immediately sent to this office for entry under "Business Notes." New catalogues isssed will also be mentioned when forwarded.

"Every man is a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help thereunto."—LORD BACON.

A WORD TO FRIENDS.

As foreshadowed soon after Mr. Leypoldt's death, arrangements have now been made, to the satisfaction of all parties interested in Mr. Leypoldt's estate and in his work, for the continuance of the several periodicals and other bibliographical enterprises conducted by him under one management and in their natural relations to one another. Mr. R. R. Bowker, as owner of THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY, has agreed with Mrs. F. Leypoldt to assume the business responsibility and general editorial direction of the other periodicals also, under guarantee of a specified income to herself and of the devotion of the general profit of the business, during the settlement of the estate, to its benefit and that of Mr. Leypoldt's family. Mrs. Leypoldt continues her personal relations with the business, as before, and in especial will take the editorial charge of the Literary News, which was in fact practically in her hands for some months before Mr. Leypoldt's death. No changes will be made in the editorial control or policy of any of the publications, or in the office staff, and it is the one desire of all concerned that the business shall be conducted as Mr. Leypoldt himself would have provided had it been possible to him to make provisions for the future.

THE subscriptions for the SUPPLEMENT to the AMERICAN CATALOGUE have brought with them many words of appreciation for Mr. Leypoldt's work and of kind wishes for those who are to take it up in his stead. About 225 subscriptions have been received at this date, but this means of course that more than half of those who intend and are sure to take copies have not sent in their names. May we not ask them do so at once, as a real testimony to their appreciation of this legacy of Mr. Leypoldt?

THE trade sale has given some indications that those who prophesy a poor year for the trade may not prove to be so good prophets as they would have us believe. Several of the invoices are reported to have sold at unexpectedly good prices. This is decidedly encouraging.

WE print this week the names of the recent accessions from Boston to the Booksellers' and Stationers' Provident Association, and with them the full Boston roster. If friends of this excellent work will do as well in other cities as Mr. B. H. Ticknor and Col. J. A. Ammon are doing in Boston, the membership ought speedily to reach a round thousand.

SPRING TRADE SALE.

SALE OF PLATES.

As already reported the trade sale this spring was more of a success than was anticipated. The prices as a rule for the better class of books were fair—the other books of course were driven to the wall.

On the day set for the sale of the plates only a small number were present and bidding was slow. The result was that nearly all the lots were withdrawn. Of the lot offered by Jas. R. Osgood & Co., Forbes's "Glimpses through the Cannon Smoke" and Upton's "Woman in Music" were sold to H. A. Sumner & Co., Chicago; "G. P. Lathrop's "In the Distance," and Fitz James O'Brien's "Tales, Sketches, and Poems," to Charles Scribner's Sons; Mrs. Palmer's "Home Life in the Bible," Viollet le Duc's "Story of a House," "Habitations of Man in all Ages," and his "Annals of a Fortress," also Felix Nargoux's "Journey of an Architect in the Northwest of Europe," to J. D. Williams, of N. Y.; and Edith Simcox's "Episodes in the Lives of Men, Women, and Lovers," to Crawford & Co., of Philadelphia.

J. S. Ogilvie & Co.'s lot, "Corwin's Nest Series," 5 volumes, were sold to Crawford & Co.; and of the invoice sold on "Account of Whom it May Concern," Johnson's "Lives of the English Poets," in two volumes, was sold to George Routledge & Sons; W. H. H. Murray's "Adventures in the Wilderness" to M. J. Hynes; and "Mark Rowland," by Hawser Martingale, to H. A. Sumner & Co.

OBITUARY.

HENRY B. HALL.

HENRY B. HALL, the well-known artist and engraver, died at his home in Morrisania on the 25th inst., in his seventy-seventh year.

Mr. Hall, who probably did more work for American publishers than any other engraver of his time, was born in London on March 11, 1808. He was a pupil of Benjamin Smith, and at the conclusion of his studies was engaged with Henry Meyer, the favorite engraver of Sir Thomas Lawrence, upon many well-known works. Subsequently for about four years he was employed by H. T. Ryall, historical engraver to the Queen, engraving all the portraits in the large plates of that engraver, and among them "The Coronation of Queen Victoria" after Sir George Hayter. In the year 1850 he came to New York well introduced to prominent publishers, among whom were G. P. Putnam and the Appletons, for whom he afterward illustrated many publications. His works are very numerous, chiefly portraits, including twelve of Washington after different artists, and one of Governor Ward, of New Jersey, who died on the same day as himself. Of late years he has been in business with his three sons, devoting his personal attention largely to etchings of historical characters of the Revolution for F. S. Hoffman and Dr. Thomas Addis Emmet, both well-known collectors. He leaves a family consisting of four sons, of whom three were in business with him—the youngest is a judge of the City Court—three daughters, twenty-two grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

NOTES ON CATALOGUES.

ROBERT CLARKE & Co., Cincinnati, have issued a handsome catalogue of the historical and miscellaneous books published by them. The distinguishing feature of this catalogue is the explanatory notes and criticisms from reviews, given with nearly every title. The presswork, paper, and general get-up is about as perfect as one may hope to expect in publications of this kind. (48 p. 8°.)

DAVID G. FRANCIS has just issued his catalogue No. 71 (April, 1884), which includes the second portion of a private library recently purchased, and many scarce books in American history, old English literature, voyages and travels, etc. (36 p. 8°.)

JOSEPH MCDONOUGH, Albany, N. Y., sends us a catalogue of a portion of the carefully selected library of the late J. S. Mosher, M.D., of Albany, comprising miscellaneous literature and a large and curious collection of criminal trials. The catalogue is numbered 28, and dated April, 1884. (44 p. nar. 12mo.)

SCRIBNER & WELFORD have just published a neat "Catalogue of Scarce and Valuable Books, including a remarkable and unique collection of Coleridgeiana,* rare first editions of Byron, Browning, Johnson, Shelley, Thackeray, etc., choice and curious volumes illustrated by Blake, Cruikshank, Leech, Phiz, and others, works from the library of John Ruskin, etc." The catalogue reflects great credit upon the publishers and the maker of it, care and discrimination being apparent on every page—in every title. We hope that Messrs. S. & W. will be encouraged in this direction.

SECOND HAND BOOKS.—American.—Received from F. C. Miller, 2 Arcade Court, Chicago: Catalogue of books and pamphlets relating to America, No. 4. April (8 p. 8°).—From H. B. Nims & Co., Troy, N. Y.: Fall Announcements and General Catalogue 1883-'84 (12 p. 12°), also a Catalogue of Standard and Subscription-Books (27 p. nar. 12mo).

SECOND-HAND BOOKS.—British.—Received from U. Maggs, 159 Church St., London: Catalogue of second-hand books in all classes of literature for April, 1884, containing scarce editions of Ruskin, British Poets and Americana, No 52 (52 p. 12mo), and from Henry Sothern & Co., 136 Strand, London: Sotheran's Price Current of Literature, No. 236, March, chiefly best Library editions of Standard Authors, Illustrated Art-Works, many in fine bindings (36 p. 8⁰).

BUSINESS NOTES.

BATON ROUGE, LA.—Wm. C. Boning, dealer in books, stationery, etc., would like to receive catalogues from different publishing and stationery houses.

NEW YORK CITY.—D. Lothrop & Co. have opened a branch store in Astor Place, under the management of Messrs. Perkins and Spinney. A full line of their extensive list of publications will be kept on hand to supply the trade.

NEW YORK CITY.—F. Lewine, 53 Division St., informs us that he has succeeded his father-in-law, Mr. H. Sakolski, in the Hebrew book publishing business, and will always have on hand a complete stock of Hebrew books and literature, with English and German translations, also all articles used by schools, congregations, and Jewish households.

RUTLAND, VT.—The old firm of Tuttle & Company, publishers, printers, booksellers, and stationers, 11 Center Street, Rutland, Vt., have organized into a stock company, to be known as "The Tuttle Company." It is a close corporation, as only the old partners of Tuttle & Co. are stockholders, with Harley C. Tuttle, president; Egbert C. Tuttle, treasurer; and Fred. G. Tuttle as secretary. They have a paid-up cash capital of $39,000, with a charter for $60,000, to which sum the capital will be gradually increased, as their requirements demand. There will be no change in the make-up or management of the house. They have a business over fifty years established, and have increased it every year until now they are the largest printing and publishing house, and leadiyg manufacturing stationers and wholesale paper dealers in Vermont.

SEDALIA, MO.—Ferrell & Fellows, booksellers, etc., Mo., have dissolved partnership. The firm is now Ferrell & Muir.

JOURNALISTIC NOTES.

Womapi is the name of a new magazine published in Boston, devoted to the cause of the Indians.

The Newport Historical Magazine, now four years old, has changed its name to the Rhode Island Historical Magazine, and will hereafter occupy the broader field which its title implies.

THE Revue des Deux Mondes for April 1 has an article entitled "La Vie Mondaine à New York," in which especial attention is given to the work in fiction of Mr. Edgar Fawcett: "A Gentleman of Leisure," "An Ambitious Woman," etc. The Revue also gives high praise to Mr. Fawcett's poetry, and compares his briefer lyrics to the famous Emaux et Camées of Théophile Gautier.

PERSONAL NOTES.

MR. JOHN KEESE, so long and favorably known in connection with Messrs. Hurst & Co., will make the Western and Eastern circuit during the ensuing season for Mr. William L. Allison.

MR. JAMES D. HURD becomes a partner of Houghton. Mifflin & Co., from April 1. He is a son of M. M. Hurd, of the former house of Hurd & Houghton, and has for many years held an important position in the business of the firm of which he is now a member.

MR. HENRY E. WEDELSTAEDT, who for the past seventeen years has been identified with D. D. Merrill and the St. Paul Book and Stationery Co., and since the organizatton of the stock company has filled the positions of secretary and treasurer as well as superintendent of their retail department, has sold out his interest and on the 1st inst. severed his connection with the above firm. His plans for the future are as yet unsettled, but his many friends will wish him success in whatever business he may engage.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

HARPER & BROS. will publish shortly G. W. Curtis's masterly oration on Wendell Phillips.

G. P. PUTNAM'S SONS publish this week "Thorns in your Sides," by Harriette A. Keyser, a New York novel having some reference to the Irish question.

J. H. BUFFORD'S SONS have issued a new portrait of Wendell Phillips, which is much more satisfactory than any of the portraits that were thrown upon the market immediately after Mr. Phillips's death.

CARY & CO., New York and Milwaukee, announce that the third and last volume of John J. Lalor's important "Cyclopædia of Political Science, Political Economy, and United States History," is now ready.

CUPPLES, UPHAM & CO. have just ready, "Songs at the Start," by Miss L. I. Guiney. They announce as in press "One Among Many," a new novel by Mrs. H. B. Goodwin, author of "Madge," etc.

E. S. WERNER, of Albany, has just published a second edition of the "Delsarte System of Oratory," by two pupils of the master. The volume is illustrated and contains Delsarte's essay on "The Attributes of Reason."

HURST & CO. issue this week a new and revised edition of Dr. A. K. Gardner's work on "Conjugal Sins." The work which is written in the best spirit, scientific and moral, has received unqualified approval by the medical profession and the press of this country.

E. B. TREAT issues this week a work on "Sexual Neurasthenia (nervous exhaustion), its hygiene, causes, symptoms and treatment, with a chapter on diet for the nervous," by Dr. George M. Beard. The work is printed from a posthumous MS. edited by Dr. A. D. Rockwell.

THOMAS WHITTAKER will publish, in a few weeks, Sir John Lubbock's fascinating lecture entitled "Chapters in Popular Natural History," with ninety illustrations; Ellice Hopkins's "Work among Workingmen," of which four large editions have been sold in England; and "Anna Cavaye, or the Ugly Princess," by Sarah Doudney.

CHARLES E. WILLIAMS, 3 Middle St., Bangor, Me., will issue in a week or so his new book entitled "The Penalty of Recklessness; or, Virginia Society Twenty Years Ago." It is described as "a thrilling romance of love, duelling, and death as enacted among the F. F. V."

C. A. WALWORTH, 8 W. 14th St., N. Y., announces that he has become the publisher of Munson's Phonographic News, and "Munson's Phonographic Phrase-Book," and he requests that all orders from the trade and others that were formerly sent to Mr. Munson be sent direct to him. The News will be issued each month regularly hereafter, and contain improved features.

GEORGE R. LOCKWOOD & SON, N. Y., h ve just published an interesting volume, entitled "Off-hand Portraits of Prominent New Yorkers," by Stephen Fiske, the well-known critic and journalist. The essays were originally published in the Knickerbocker under the editorship of T. F. Durant, and comprise the biographies of fifty-eight prominent residents of New York.

S. S. RIDER, Providence, in the last issue, which concludes the first volume of his entertaining Book Notes, gives an index to the local historical matters touched upon. He announces that when the first series of his Rhode Island Historical Tracts is completed, as it shortly will be, by the twentieth number, a second series will be begun if sufficient support is promised, which is to be hoped.

THE drawings used by the Century Company to illustrate a series of articles on the life-saving service and other marine subjects were recently exhibited in the International Fisheries Exhibition at London, and the artist, Mr. M. J. Burns, was awarded a handsome gold medal. Mr. Burns accompanied Mr. S. G. W. Benjamin in the Century's expedition to the Gulf of St. Lawrence, and illustrated the series of papers descriptive of that cruise, the fourth of which appears in the May Century.

J. S. OGILVIE & CO. have published No. 5 of "Ogilvie's Popular Reading," containing the following eight stories—all complete—"The Lost Bank-Note," by Mrs. Henry Wood; "Rose Lodge," by Mrs. Henry Wood; "Wedded and Parted," by Bertha M. Clay; "By the Night Express;" "Round the Moon," by Jules Verne; "Tom Tiddler's Ground," by Charles Dickens; "Christie's Old Organ," by Mrs. O. F. Walton; "Jerusha Rugg in Search of a Husband."

A. S. BARNES & CO. have in press "A Handy Anglo-Saxon Dictionary" based upon Grein's "Sprachschatz," and edited by Profs. James A. Harrison, of Washington and Lee University, and W. M. Baskervill, Ph.D. (Lips.), of Vanderbilt University. The former will also contribute a List of Irregular Verbs, and the latter an Outline of Anglo-Saxon Grammar. The Grammar will be enlarged for separate publication by the same house a little later in the season.

HOUGHTON, MIFFLIN & CO. will publish in a few weeks a new volume prepared from the Journals of Thoreau, entitled "Summer;" a new novel called "A Country Doctor," by Miss Sarah Orne Jewett who has written so many delightful short stories; Mr. Crawford's "A Roman Singer;" and "The Fate of Mansfield Humphreys, including the Episode of Mr. Washington Adams in England,"—several papers by Richard Grant White reprinted from the Atlantic Monthly, with an additional chapter.

S. W. GREEN'S SON, in getting out his reprint of Forbes's sketch of "Chinese Gordon," displayed remarkable enterprise and facility for doing rapid work. The English copy of the book reached him at 3 P.M. on Tuesday, April 22. The work was put in hand at once and on the following morning (Wednesday, April 23), at six o'clock perfect copies of the reprint were ready, and by noon 500 were delivered—the type-setting, printing and binding having been done in one night.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS will publish this month another volume in their new issue of Donald G. Mitchell's works. The volume is entitled "Out of Town Places," and is a new edition of "Rural Studies." A number of new illustrations have been introduced. They have in press for immediate publication "Round the World," by Andrew Carnegie, author of "An American Four-in-Hand in Great Britain," one of the most successful books of last year. The volume was printed several years ago for private circulation, but now that it is offered to the public the text has been thoroughly revised and more than a hundred pages of new matter added.

THE Viscountess Enfield is preparing for the press a second series of "Leaves" from the diary of Henry Greville, which are said to promise to be as rare and replete with anecdotes as was the first collection.

GENERAL GORDON'S book, so much talked about at the time of his leaving England, is to be published at once under the title "Reflections Suggested in Palestine." The introduction to the volume was written from Khartoum.

ACCORDING to the latest return, the number of volumes in the British Museum is just over 1,300,000. There are 160 miles of shelves, and about 20 more miles to be filled. It is calculated that about one ton of literature is sent in daily.

THE CLARENDON PRESS have published, in two volumes octavo, an English translation of the late Prof. Lotze's "Logik" and "Metaphysik," edited by Mr. B. Bosanquet. These volumes form Parts I. and II. respectively of the "System der Philosophie." The translation is the work of several persons; it has been revised throughout, and submitted, where it seemed necessary, to mathematical experts. Tables of contents and indices have been added.

T. FISHER UNWIN, London, will publish at once apropos of the Wyclif Quincentenary, "John Wyclif: Patriot and Reformer," by Dr. Rudolf Buddenseig, one of the greatest living authorities upon Wyclif, and one of the editors of the Wyclif Society. The book will comprise a memoir of the Reformer and also an interesting selection of his writings, translated for the first time from the original Latin MSS. in Dr. Buddenseig's possession and elsewhere.

CASSELL & CO. have made arrangements for the issue in monthly parts of a new work on gardening, to be published under the title of Cassell's Popular Gardening. It will be edited by Mr. D. T. Fish, and the contributors will include Messrs. William Early, W. Ingram, R. Dean, W. Coleman, Eastnor Castle, and other authorities. They will publish early next month the fifth and concluding volume of "The Old Testament Commentary for English Readers," edited by the Bishop of Gloucester and Bristol. The volume will contain Jeremiah to Malachi, and the contributors will be the Dean of Wells; the Rev. Dr. Gardiner, Professor of Divinity, Middletown, N. J., and others.

NIMMO & BAIN propose to publish a collection of "The Elizabethan Dramatists," beginning with Christopher Marlowe, in three volumes, edited by Mr. A. H. Bullen. An edition of Middleton will follow in the autumn, and Middleton will be succeeded by Shirley. For Beaumont and Fletcher much time and labor will be required; but the editor, we understand, has already commenced the arduous task, and will give the closest attention to the question: How far was Massinger concerned in the authorship of plays attributed to Beaumont and Fletcher? The remaining dramatists of this period will follow in due order. One of the chief features of this new edition of "The Elizabethan Dramatists" will be the fact that each work will be carefully edited and new notes given throughout.

MR. BROWNING'S new book will be entitled "Seriora; being Divers Fancies of Dervish Ferishtah." "The topics chosen," says the London Athenæum, "will, as the title indicates, be more serious than those usually handled in Mr. Browning's works, and the book will contain some of his deepest thoughts. The two mottoes of the volume to some extent explain its character. The first is taken from Jeremy Collier's Dictionary, article Shakespeare: 'His genius was jocular; but when he pleased, he could be very serious.' The second is: 'You, sir, I entertain for one of my Hundred; only I do not like the fashion of your garments: you'll say they are Persian; but let them be changed.' There are twelve 'Fancies' in all. They are written in blank verse, and they are introduced by a lyric, while another lyric concludes the volume."

BOOKS WANTED.

Under the heading "Books Wanted," subscribers are entitled to a free insertion of five lines, exclusive of address, in each issue. Repeated matter, however, must be charged for at the rate of 10 cents per line.

☞ Copy for this Department must reach us Thursday Morning to be in time for insertion in same week's issue.

☞ It is desirable to receive copy in shape ready for the printer, viz.: first, headline—name and address—then, titles in separate lines (see below), all written on detached slips, or at the bottom of letter, or on postal card. Compliance with this request will secure accurate and prompt insertion.

LATEST BOOKS.

I.

Brain Exhaustion,

WITH SOME PRELIMINARY CONSIDERATIONS ON CEREBRAL DYNAMICS. By J. LEONARD CORNING, M.D., formerly Resident Physician to the Hudson River State Hospital for the Insane. Crown 8vo, cloth, $2.

"I have sought to consider, from as scientific a stand-point as possible, a group of symptoms the importance of which is sufficiently evident. The opinions expressed have been formed from direct clinical observation, and from influences derived from physiology and experimental pathology."—From the Preface.

II.

The Parlor Muse:

A SELECTION OF VERS DE SOCIETE FROM MODERN POETS. Parchment-Paper Series. 18mo, 30 cents; also in cloth, 50 cents.

The selections in this little volume are of that gay and gallant order that make true vers de société, and represent the best writers of this kind of verse—Praed, Dobson, Locker, Aïdée, Calverley, Bunner, Gilbert, and others. They are full of sparkle and wit, and well suited for parlor reading.

III.

Relation of Animal Diseases to the Public Health,

AND THEIR PREVENTION. By FRANK S. BILLINGS, D.V.S. 8vo, cloth, $4.

The trichiniasis question, now a subject of Congressional investigation, is fully discussed by the author of this book, whose researches on this subject have been thorough and long-continued. He has also compiled many valuable statistics having a direct bearing on the question, and which are contained in no other volume in the English language. The book should be read by all who have an interest in the settlement of this most important question.

IV.

Mental Evolution in Animals.

By GEORGE J. ROMANES, author of "Animal Intelligence." With a Posthumous Essay on Instinct, by Charles Darwin. 12mo, cloth, $2.

"Mr. Romanes has followed up his careful enumeration of the facts of 'Animal Intelligence,' contributed to the 'International Scientific Series,' with a work dealing with the successive stages at which the various mental phenomena appear in the scale of life. The present instalment displays the same evidence of industry in collecting facts and caution in co-ordinating them by theory as the former."—The Athenæum.

V.

The Book of Psalms.

Translated by the Rev. T. K. CHEYNE, M.A. Parchment Series. Antique, gilt top, $1.25.

"The object of the present edition is to enable lovers of literature to read the Psalter intelligently and with pleasure. The 'Dictionary of the Bible' and the various commentaries on the Psalms will supply the student with learned material in abundance. But the ambition of the publishers and the translator is to make the Psalms enjoyable, and learned controversies are not æsthetically enjoyable."—From the Introduction.
